THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR SUMS UP THE CASE. Vith the examination of this witness the taking of testimony closed, and the Public Prosecutor made the speech for the Crown. He declared the accused had been guilty of oad faith and his statements were unworthy of credit. He argued that the Count purposely abstracted the documents and never had any intention of returning them. The revelations communicated to the Vienna Presse were intended to be used as weapons for a campaign against Prince Bismarck; out the accused retreated almost before the attack was commenced. The echo of the assassin's shot at Kissingen was too much for him. The offence was without extenuation, and was aggravated by the rank of the accused. Nevertheless, concluded the prosecutor, the government would refrain from demanding deprivation of civil rights.

The Public Prosecutor spoke two and a half iours, and concluded by asking that the prisoner be sentenced to two and a half years' imprison-THE REPLY IN DEPENCE.

Herr Holtzendorf, counsel for the defence, argued that even if all the charges were admitted, an acquittal was unavoidable on purely legal grounds. It could not be maintained that Crown had any proprietary right in the missing documents. The accused in his conflict with Bismarck considered that he was defending his

TRACEDY IN BOSTON.

Shocking Murder and Suicide in the Bunker Hill District-A Married Man Murders Another Man's Wife and Then Cuts His Own Throat. BOSTON, Dec. 14, 1874.

Charlestown has again been the scene of another fearful tragedy, which approaches in all its hor-rors the terrible Kimball murder, which occurred here the year ago. The tragedy occurred at the house No. 55 School street, corner of Bartlett, about half-past three o'clock yesterday afternoon, when William H. Jones murdered Mrs. Morgie Barry, wile of Mr. Octavins R. Barry, by cutting her throat and then committing suicide with the same razor, each dying instantly. The particulars of the affair are as follows:—Mr. Jones, the murderer, was a married man and lived with his family—a wife, a son and daughter—in Somerville, near Porter's station. The victim lived in the house where she was so prutally murdered with her husband, Octavius R. Barry, and two grown up children, a daughter and a son. Both families have been very intimate for years, and formerly resided under the same roof in a tenement house on Bartlett street. always maintained the most iriendly relations, and no longer ago than Thanksgiving Day the Barry family passed the day at the nouse of Mr. Jones. The son of the latter is a pupil of Mrs. Barry's daughter in the study of music. With such a state of things existing, it is difficult to account for the reasons which led to

THE MURDER It seems that Mr. Jones had been in the habit of calling upon the Barry family, they occupying the lower portion of the house. Last Saturday evening he was at the house until eleven o'clock, there being present also Mrs. Barry's daughter Alice and her niece—the husband, who at present tends a refreshment saloon on Main strest, being absent at his work. Mr. Jones prolonged his call against the wishes of Mrs. Barry, who, finding he was in no hurry to return to his home, retired to her room and he departed. Sunday jorenoon, however, about half-past nine o'clock, Mr. Jones again made his appearance and remained at the house the reat of the day. Mr. Barry left home for South Boston during the forenoon, and soon after him the son. At about two o'clock the mother, daughter and niece partook of dinner, Mr. Jones declining to eat with them, and rec'ining upon a lounge in the meantime. At three o'clock the daughter and niece partook at three o'clock the daughter and niece left the house for church, leaving Mrs. Barry and Mr. Jones in a basement kitchen, the former attending to her household duties and the latter still lying upon the lounge. What transpired between the parties and what was the immediate cause of the murder no mortal longue can tell, for the tragedy was not witnessed by any human being and was committed so quietly as not even to alarm the occapants of the upper tenement. About half-past three o'clock the son, Mr. George Barry, who is about twenty years of age, came home, and, not finding the family in the sitting room, he descended into the cellar kitchen, where a terrible sight met his and her niece—the husband, who at present tends mr. George Barry, who is about twenty years of age, came home, and, not finding the family in the sitting room, he descended into the celiar kitchen, where a terrible sight met his gaze. Stretched upon the floor, lace downward, was his mother, dead, with her throat cut from ear to ear, while a short distance from her was the body of Mr. Jones, with a gaping cut in his throat, which too plainly indicated the means by which the horrible double murder had been committed. The alarm was quickly given to the neighbors and to the police, and the news of the terrible affair spread quickly through the city, attracting large crowds to the scene. Coroner Bradford was called and viewed the remains.

through the city, attracting large crowds to the scene. Coroner Bradiord was called and viewed the remains.

HE SCENE OF THE TRAGEDY.

It needed but a single giance about the room to cause one to turn with horror from the awful scene. Lying simost in the centre of the smail room was the body of the woman, with face and garmen's covered with blood, and at the side of the room, lying outerstched upon his back, was the body of the murderer, which presented the same terrible aspect. If floor was covered with blood. Appearances indicated that the murderer took his victim by sorridiand approached her from behind as she was covered with blood. Appearances indicated that the murderer took his victim by sorridiand approached her from behind as she was found by the side of Mr. Jones; and the theory that the act was premeditated is supported oy the fact that the case of the razor was found in the murderer's pocket, plainly indicating that he carried it to the house. It is not improbable that it was his intention to have committed the deed Saturday night; but from some cause, possibly because he was not alone with Mrs. Barry any length of time, concluded to defer it until a more lavorable opportunity occurred. Alter Coroner Bradford had viewed the bodies they were given in charge of Undertaker Bryant to be prepared for burial.

The father, daughter and niece returned to their home about the same time, and when made aware of the sad fate of the wile and mother their agony was intense. They were prevailed upon to go to the house of a friend near by, where they remained last evening. The son went to Somerville to inform the lamily of the murderer, and returned with Mrs. Jones, who appeared greatly affected. She states that for some time past ner husband had betrayed signs of insanity, and that she has had at times lears for her own safety.

Mr. Jones was about lotty years of age, was an uphoisterer, and was in the employ of Messrs. Beals sanity, and that she has had at times lears for her own safety.

THE MURDERER.

Mr. Jones was about forty years of age, was an uphoisterer, and was in the employ of Messrs. Beats & Hooper. Mr. Barry is well known in Charlestown, and has been in the employ of Messrs. Brinthall & Osgood, paper hangers, until recently. He is now working at the refreshment saloon of Mr. Thomas Paine, near Hancock square. His wife was about thirty-eight years of age, and their domestic life, so far as is known, has always been pleasant. The motive which prompted the tragedy is a matter diment to determine. Many are of the opinion that his acquaintance with the murdered woman led him to entertain more than friendly feelings for her, and that this so unsetted his mind that it at last led him to commit the dreadful deed of violence above recordes.

The Returning Board Still Postpone Their Report.

PROOFS OF CHEAT AND FORGERY

Public Opinion the Fickle Restraint from Violence.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 14, 1874. In the Returning Board this morning the demo-crats produced amdavits of Kellogg, Supervisor orats produced amdavits of kellogs, Supervisor of Election in St. Helena parish, that since he put, on November 6, in the custody of the Board the sealed results of the polling, they have been forged, the vote given to the democratic candidates at three polls being given to the republicans, and vice versa, so as to elect Floyd, republican, member of the Legislature. Floyd is here and declares that he was defeated, and if counted in will not take his seat. He threatens to publish a card denouncing the fraudulent act of the Board or its agents or clerks.

MANIPULATING RETURNS ON THANKSGIVING DAY. Two cierks of the Board swear that the chief cierk, Campbell, and another cierk broke the seals of the returns, and on Tnanksgiving Day were engaged for three hours, when the Board was not in session, in manipulating some of them. One affidavit very seriously compromises two members of the Board.

WHAT THEY WOULD DO IN KANSAS. A republican Kansas judge, sitting beside me, distening to the amdavits, and learning that the action of the Board cannot be reviewed by the courts, declared that if such attempts were made in Kansas to defeat the voice of the people the guilty parties would be hanged by the populace.

THE BOARD RESPONSIBLE. If the forgeries were not committed by the members of the Board they cannot shirk the responsibility for the action of others, as the returns have been under their seal and lock and key since the election.

WHAT THE BOARD WILL DARE TO DO. The democratic counsel at the Returning Board now express the belief that, in face of all the frauds and forgeries they have traced to the Board or its subordinates and party supporters since the returns of the parishes have been made to them, they will not dare to return less than sixty-nine democratic Assemblymen, which will make the lower House stand sixty-four democrats to thirty-two republicans; but they have doubts whether they will give them all the Senators they

A REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE REPUDIATES FRAUD. The republican candidate for State Assembly for Sabine, to count in whom the returns were altered after they were in the possession of the Board, telegraphs that he was defeated fairly and does not approve the attempted fraud.

DANGER OF VIOLENCE. The people are more incensed than ever to-day, owing to these revelations, and it is believed that enough of them would be willing to lynch the Re-turning Board and trust to facts to vindicate their conduct were it not that they are afraid that Grant would fill the State House with troops and prevent their meeting as a Legislature in January. Many of them believe that when the legally elected democratic majority peacefully assembled in Senate and Assembly recognizes McEnery as the Governor, they, as the highest authority in tne State, will be entitled to respect, and the people, having settled by their votes what Congress failed to do in its last session, Grant will pause before dispersing the people and the Legislature by the bayonet, and before installing a Legislature composed of defeated candidates. This view, which has taken deep root in the minds violence, if they do not escape from the city

Resolutions Regarding the Charges of Fraud-Sudden Alarm and Adjourn-ment-Educational Trouble Looming

NEW ORLHANS, Dec. 14, 1874. In the Returning Board to-day John D. Davis, Supervisor of Registration, and six Commission, ers of Election of St. Helena parish, made affidavits that the election returns from that parish now in the hands of the Returning Board have been tampered with, and changes and alterations made in them since they were delivered to the Secretary of the Board.

Mr. Arroys offered the following :-Whereas according to the sworn statement of the Supervisor of Registration of the parish of St. Helena it is charged that the returns filed by him have been tampered with since said returns have been filed with this Board; Tesolved, That this Board shall, before acting upon said Supervisor's returns, investigate the charges made in the above statement, in order that the guilty parties be dealt with according to

This was adopted and the investigation will be held to-morrow.

THE PROOPS OF PRAUDS.

Governor Weils proposed that the democratic counsel submit all evidence and examine all am. davits relating to contested parishes, and then submit the whole to the Board for their action. To this proposition the conservatives ob-jected, for the reason, they stated, that certain papers have been placed among the records without their knowledge, of the contents of which they are not informed, and requested that, while the protested parishes are under consideration, as each case is taken they may be notified, so as to luspect the papers in each case and see that none of the proofs offered by them have been abstracted or suppressed, nor that any new contrary proof has been filed unknown to them, so that all legal proof, and none other, may be before the Board for its consideration. This request was acquiesced in, and the Carroll Parish returns were taken up.

THE PROCEEDINGS BROKEN OFF.

THE POREMAN'S STATEMENT.

On Sunday, the 6th inst, being in the sity of Jackson on business, I requested an interview with Governor Ames, for the purpose of giving him a true account of the cause of the excitement at Vickaburg against Peter Crosby and other officials. The request was granted, and I sailed at the mansion. I stated to Governor Ames, for Mickaburg, and was a member of the against the Crosby and was a member of the against the Covernor ames and the State Superintendent of the Covernor Ames and the State Superintendent of the Covernor and and the State Superintendent of the Covernor and and the State Superintendent of the Covernor and the Chancery Court Clerk's, had been stolen and are supposed to have been destroyed; that these books contained evidence of very great trands and were put in a room and locked for safe Keeping, but the room was broken open and the books abstracted.

The Governor replied that the people of Warren county had forced feter Crosby, the Sheriff, from his office, and that if they wanted a difficulty he would be pleased to meet the issue, which was purely political. If Crosby was a white man no charges were made against him the covernor to be satisfied with him. I took him the covernor to be satisfied with him. # OBITUARY.

Doctor Underwood. Robert Underwood, or, as he was more widely known, Doctor Underwood, expired at his residence in Saratoga, on Sunday last, aged about fifty years. A small circle of friends will mourn over the departure of this noted pool seller, but thousands of turimen and those interested in turi matters will be sorry to learn that the Doctor has gone. He was the first auctioneer of pools in this country and at the same time the most popular and the most successful in the business. Scores of imitators have sprung up all over the land where out-door sports are known, but not one of them could keep a throng of betting men so long together or in such good humor as the Doctor. He was born in Dublin, Ireland, and practised there as a veterinarian surgeon, but losing very heavily, it is reported, on the great match race of two miles between the Flying Dutchman and Voltigeur, run at York, England, May 18, 1851, he left the land of his birth and came to this country in the latter part of that year. Failing to find a suitable opening as a practising veterinarian in this city he accepted an invitation to visit Lexington, Ky., where at once he attached himself to the old and Herr (who raised Lady Thorn, and is the owner of Mambrino Patchen and other equally noted borses), becoming his assistant. While with him the Doctor handled a few trotters, drove them on the Fair Grounds in that city, and in a year or so had made so many friends that he decided to go into business for himself, which he did, starting a rival establishment near that of his old friend, Dr. Herr. The venture met with moderate success. About this time Mr. H. P. McGrath, the Rentucky turiman, under the style of Messrs. McGrath, Perritt & Co., proprietors of a clubnouse in New Orleans (now known as the Boston Club, inaugurated in that city the business of pool seiling, but on an entirely different basis from that now generally known as the auction.

attempted the carrying out of the grand Philadelphia, New York and Boston racing combination, which at the time was so universally commented upon.

The Doctor made his debut as an auction pool seller on the Northern turf at Philadelphia, June, 1802, where the novelty of the pian in betting excited much discussion, but still was accepted by the turimen, who desired to be "a little interested" on this or that race, and before Cassady's combination came to grief the Doctor and his pool selling was an institution, and has never lost favor. From Philadelphia Dr. Underwood came to New York, sold pools on the old Union Course on Fourth of July that year, continued through the meeting, and went to Boston, carrying out his contract with Mr. Cassady. All this while the Doctor made minaly friends, and went back to his home in Lexington greatly pleased with his first pool selling experiment in this section of the country. He returned the next year, 1863, acted as pool seller at Sufolk Park, Philadelphia, and then journeyed to Paterson, N. J., where he conducted the same business at the opening meeting of the famous Passate Association. The success of the system was now fully established, and at all racing remaines from that time in the North the Doctor was the presiding genius at he pool box. He sold the first pools at Saratoga August, 1803, at the meeting on the old course in the woods known to all old turimen; at the new York, was all these years associated with him, and together they also took charge of the pool selling at the Pimilco Course, Battimore, and the Monmouth Park Association, Long Branch. They journeyed West and South to fill engagements with associations who, knowing their worth as managers of this particular business, did not feel satisfied unless they were present. Dr. Enderwood aid not forsake Lexington as his place of permanent residence until the year 1866, when he removed to New York, living in this city up to the year 1871. At that time he purchased a cottage at Saratoga and alterward lived there wit his family,
